Validation of Qualifications, Directly from GSA

When you choose Diebold Security, you're choosing a security partner that has been certified and listed by the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA) to provide HSPD-12 products and services up to and including a complete end-to-end, turnkey HSPD-12 solution. Diebold is one of a limited number of security integrators to be certified to provide solutions that enable compliance with HSPD-12 and FIPS 201. A trusted GSA provider for nearly 10 years, Diebold holds GSA Schedule 84, 71 and 70 security contracts that allow the delivery of turnkey systems assessment, design, installation, training and support. And Diebold partners with technology providers that have also earned schedules through GSA's rigorous processes.

When it comes time to certify your systems, ensure your organization receives "Authorization to Operate (ATO)" and demonstrates full compliance with the Federal Information Security Management Act (FISMA) and e-authentication initiatives. Diebold can be there to assist you through certification and accreditation services and support.
